Adenoid Cystic Carcinoma (ACC) is a very rare cancer. Your support provides a healthier future for thousands of ACC families by allowing the Adenoid Cystic Carcinoma Research Foundation (ACCRF) to accelerate the development of improved therapies and a cure for the disease.

FUND A NEED to benefit the ACCRF

We invite you to fund the need of your choice at any of the following levels. Thanks to the generosity of donors who will cover all administrative costs, 100% of your donation will fund cutting-edge research.

A secure online donation by credit card may be made at www.accrf.org

$75: Enough to preserve an ACC specimen for one year, ensuring that any researcher in the world will have access to the necessary materials to study ACC

$150: Enough to review one case of ACC for a potentially damaging protein

$500: Enough to test 300 drugs on ACC in a controlled laboratory environment

$1000: Enough to sequence a genome to find the genetic alterations in tumors that cause ACC

$5000: Enough to pay a brilliant, hardworking postdoctoral researcher for a month

The Friends of ACCRF thank you for your generous help in accelerating the development of a cure for ACC
